

June 2017

Renzenbrink & Partner grows with further experienced corporate and transaction lawyer from Hengeler Mueller

Dr Dennis Schlottmann will join Renzenbrink & Partner on 1 June 2017 as a partner. The transaction and corporate lawyer started his career at Hengeler Mueller in Düsseldorf in 2010, where he was most recently a senior associate in Berlin. He gained international experience during a one-year job for Barnes & Thornburg in Chicago.

Dr Dennis Schlottmann's practise is focused on corporate law and M&A / Private Equity. He has extensive experience in advising large and medium-sized companies and their bodies on all aspects of corporate law. In addition, he supported numerous well-known clients at critical general meetings and structural measures, such as RWE in Europe-wide bundling of generation activities, Commerzbank during the capital increase in 2011 or Deutsche Telekom for the first-time issue of an equity dividend by a listed company.

Dr Dennis Schlottmann has extensive expertise in advising on transactions. His clients included strategic investors and private equity funds. Among other things, he advised Hochtief AG on the public takeover by ACS, Intel to acquire Infineon's wireless solutions business and the financial investor KKR on its participation in WMF AG. He recently worked for General Electric in the acquisition of Concept Laser and in several transactions for financial investors in the healthcare and nursing sector.

Dr Dennis Schlottmann is the third lawyer joining Renzenbrink & Partner from Hengeler Mueller after Dr Andreas Stoll and Dr Gunnar L. Schmäuser. Renzenbrink & Partner is thus growing to a total of six partners, three are specialized transaction and corporate law partners and three partners advise in the fields of tax, financing and litigation. The law firm has grown to eleven lawyers in total. Further hirings are planned for 2017.
